GEORGE HAMLIN FITCH.
 COAST LITERARY CRITIC.
 EN ROUTE TO ISLANDS

George Hamlin Fitch, for many years past prominently identified with the newspaper world in San Francisco and an author of considerable note, sailed from San Francisco in the Laurine today, on his initial visit to Hawaii, where he expects to remain for several weeks. Among the works of Mr. Fitch are "The Critic in the Orient," written following a world's tour several years ago. These volumes cover thoroughly and in an able manner the various points of interest in a limited time tour of the world.

It is probable that Mr. Fitch will write a sister volume on his impressions and the many points of interest in the Hawaiian Islands. That he is fully capable of handling the subject his previous works of a like nature denote.

During the past several months Mr. Fitch, who occupies the chairs of news editor and literary critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, has delivered a series of six lectures on the "World's Leading Spiritual Authors."

Avenging that her husband, Daniel Poki Kauhini, repeatedly beat and abused her for the last three years, that on February 4, 1913, in the course of one of these "chastisements" he broke her nose and knocked out one of her teeth, and that though allegedly physically he has failed to provide for herself and the two little children, Ellen Catherine Haukani has filed a petition in circuit court seeking a divorce. ## HILO IS NOT IN LINE FOR Y.M.C.A. AT THE PRESENT

Paul Super, general secretary of the Honolulu Young Men's Christian Association, has been planning to go to Hilo next Thursday to organize an association in the Crescent City, but, according to a statement made by him this morning, it looks as if the proposition, which was given no little publicity when first introduced about two weeks ago, will fall through.

Mr. Super said that a letter which he received from Hilo yesterday gives evidence that the ardor of the residents of that city is growing cool. Finances, he says, seems to be the obstacle.

"I am disappointed to think that the Hilo men have let their former interest in the matter lull," he said. "No doubt it is true that the present would not be an auspicious time to raise funds for such a project, still there is much an association could do with comparatively little equipment. The Hilo men have but to establish an association to realize its great value in the community."

SALARY BUDGET APPROVED BY SUPERVISORS

noon that he would fight the percentage plan, and he did for a while. He said he was against it on principle—that it would be starting a precedent that would be followed by business firms over the territory, and that the wage scale was low enough at present. However, he changed his views before the meeting was over, the majority standing firm for the percentage plan, which went through as outlined in the Star-Bulletin yesterday. The budget carrying the 10 per cent cuts passed second reading without objection. All the supervisors with the exception of Hardesty were present. McClellan moved that communications be sent by the clerk to all department heads, notifying them of the changes made in appropriations and advising them to regulate their salaries accordingly. The next meeting of the board was set for Thursday, April 2, at which time the matter of the transfer of the water and sewer systems will be taken up.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute Club will meet at the Young Men's Christian Association Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to hear a discussion of the new currency law. L. Tenney Peck will be the speaker.
